Dear Parents,

Many of your children have expressed an interest in purchasing classical music CD’s. We have been studying the music of Johann Sebastian Bach, Wolfgang Amadeus Mozart, and Ludwig Von Beethoven. We will be studying George Frederick Handel (Hallelujiah Chorus) and the Beatles! Your children have been exposed to music from the Baroque, Classical and Romantic Eras of music, including Antonio Vivaldi (Four Seasons), Camille Saint Saens (Danse Macabre), and Peter Illyitch Tchaikovsky (Nutcracker Suite).

If you and your child would like to begin building a Classical Music Library, I would recommend going to Walmart or Best Buy and looking for CD’s which are “Greatest Hits” or “Best of…” collections. These CD’s usually include the more popular classical hits. It does not matter who the performers are, although a large city orchestra is usually a safe choice. I have also found many used CD’s at Bull Moose Music and Newbury Comics.

Good Luck on this new adventure in listening to music!

Mrs. Moldoff